² This SAFE does not contain a maturity date (which is customary). A key difference between a SAFE and a convertible note is that a convertible note will often include a maturity date (being the date upon which the note must either convert or be redeemed).

³ An Investor may want to enter into a separate side letter with the Company to secure pre-emptive rights and information rights during the period of the SAFE, given that the Investor may not be a shareholder during that time.

- (d) (corresponding meanings) a word that is derived from a defined word has a corresponding meaning.

2. Right to be issued Shares

In exchange for the payment of the Purchase Amount, the Investor has the right to be issued Shares on and subject to the terms of this deed.

3. Qualifying Financing

- (a) If there is a Qualifying Financing before the Termination Date, the Company will automatically issue to the Investor that number of QF Shares equal to the higher of:5
 - (i) the Purchase Amount divided by the Discount Price; or
 - (ii) the Purchase Amount divided by the Safe Price

rounded to the nearest whole number.

(b) The Company must, not later than 3 Business Days after the issue of the QF Shares in accordance with clause 3(a), send to the Investor a certificate for the number of QF Shares issued to the Investor.

⁵ This agreement calculates the number of shares that the Investor would receive on a future capital raising (called a Qualifying Financing) on the higher of a formula that uses a pre-agreed valuation cap and a formula that applies a discount rate to the price per share issued in that priced round. It is not uncommon for the calculation to be done by reference only to a discount rate.

(c) Prior to being issued with any QF Shares under clause 3(a), the Investor must, if it is not already a party to the Shareholders Agreement, provide the Company with a duly executed deed of accession to the Shareholders Agreement, if there is a Shareholders Agreement in existence at that point in time and if the Shareholders Agreement does not impose more onerous obligations on the Investor as compared to other purchasers of equity securities in the Qualifying Financing.

4. Exit Event

- (a) If there is an Exit Event before the Termination Date, the Investor will, at its election within 2 Business Days of receipt of notice of the Exit Event from the Company, either:
 - (i) receive a cash payment equal to the Purchase Amount; or
 - (ii) automatically receive from the Company (with effect immediately prior to the Exit Event) that number of Ordinary Shares equal to the higher of:
 - (A) the Purchase Amount divided by the Exit Event Price; or
 - (B) the Purchase Amount divided by the Safe Price,

rounded to the nearest whole number.

If the Investor makes no election within 2 Business Days of notice of the Exit Event, it will be deemed to have elected to receive Ordinary Shares in accordance with clause 4(a)(ii).

- (b) If the Investor elects to receive cash under clause 4(a)(i), an amount equal to the Purchase Amount will be due and payable by the Company to the Investor concurrently with the completion of the Exit Event.
- (c) The Company must, not later than 3 Business Days after the issue of the Ordinary in accordance with clause 4(a)(ii), send to the Investor a certificate for the number of Ordinary Shares issued to the Investor.
- (d) Prior to being issued with any Ordinary Shares under clause 4(a)(ii), the Investor must, if it is not already a party to the Shareholders Agreement, provide the Company with a duly executed deed of accession to the Shareholders Agreement, if there is a Shareholders Agreement in existence at that point in time and if the Shareholders Agreement does not impose more onerous obligations on the Investor as compared to other holders of Ordinary Shares in the Exit Event.

5. Insolvency Event

If there is an Insolvency Event before the Termination Date, the Company will pay to the Investor a cash amount equal to the Purchase Amount immediately prior to, or concurrent with, completion of the Insolvency Event. The Purchase Amount will be paid in priority to any distribution of any of the assets of the Company to shareholders of the Company (in their capacity as shareholders). If the assets of the Company available for distribution to the Investor and all holders of all other Safes (Dissolving Investors) are insufficient to permit the payment to the Dissolving Investors of their respective Purchase Amounts, then the entire assets of the Company available for distribution to the Dissolving Investors will be pro rata among the Dissolving Investors in proportion to the Purchase Amount they would otherwise be entitled to receive.

7. Waiver of pre-emptive rights

8. Adjustments

If, prior to the issue of Shares in accordance with this deed, the Company makes any reconstruction of its share capital, including without limitation a consolidation, share split, share dividend, bonus issue or capital reduction, the number of Shares which may be issued to the Investor must be reconstructed in the same manner so that the Investor is entitled to receive the same proportion of total shares of the Company on issue or the paid up capital of the Company as would have been the case but for the reconstruction of the Company's share capital. The Company must take all necessary or desirable actions to ensure that the Investor is not disadvantaged or advantaged by the operation of this clause 8 if the Company makes any reconstruction of its share capital.

9. Voting and other rights

Until Shares are issued in accordance with this deed, the Investor (in its capacity as an investor) has no rights as a shareholder of the Company, including any voting, dividend or any related rights or the right to participate in any issue of Shares by the Company.
